Parkview's HEA Kids Pack Nominated for Green Bay Packers Give Back Large Group Award

Ashwaubenon, WI – April 17, 2019 – Parkview students involved in the HEA Kids Pack have been nominated for the Green Bay Packers Give Back Large Group Award. This award recognizes individuals and groups in the community who make a difference through volunteerism. The HEA Kids Pack will find out if they are winners of this award at the upcoming Wisconsin Public Service Volunteer Awards Breakfast on Thursday, April 18th held at the KI Convention Center in Green Bay.

The HEA Kids Pack is led by Parkview Middle School teacher, Jodie Schenk, and is comprised of nearly 100 energetic, compassionate, animal-loving students. The group formed in September of 2018, and has since been providing students with information and tools to learn about respectful and responsible treatment of all companion animals. They also offer experiences that promote respect and kindness to animals, as well as service opportunities for students to connect with the mission of HEA. In addition to the HEA Kids Pack being nominated, Jodie Schenk was also nominated for the Georgia Pacific Adult Volunteer Award.
